There's no appeal in this case. The public is the judge and we've proven to the court's satisfaction that we can sell a higher class of goods than anyone else in the city at prices that are asked for inferior grades.

We are showing some beautiful new things in Cabinets, Book Cases, etc., while in office desks and other furniture we hold the place at the head of the procession.

FALLING IN LINE

Wisconsin Democrats Solid for Cleveland,

With Senator Vilas as a Dark Horse.

The Platform Adopted at Milwaukee.

Gov. Fifer Sure to be Renominated.

Conventions all Over the Country to Select Delegates to the Two Great National Conventions Soon to be Held.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 4.—When the democratic state convention met at noon to-day the name of Cleveland was in every mouth. The district conventions were held during the morning and only Cleveland men were put on guard, to vote as a unit for him and sound money at Chicago.

Chairman E. C. Wall called the convention to order, and State Senator Robert E. Lees, temporary chairman, made an eloquent address, dwelling at length on the principles of parties founded by Jefferson and Hamilton.

The Platform.

The platform contains a strong tariff plank, commends the state administration and denounces the billion dollar congress.

The financial and Cleveland planks are as follows:

We maintain that the true interests of the people demand sound, honest and stable money, composed of or based on and redeemable in gold and silver coin of equal intrinsic value.

We therefore oppose the project of unlimited coinage of silver dollars of less commercial value than gold dollars as undemocratic, dishonest and specially hurtful to the farmers and laboring classes, the first and most defenseless victims of unstable money and a fluctuating currency.

We denounce the republican legislation on this subject, more particularly the Sherman act of 1890, as a cowardly makeshift and an inexcusable waste of national resources in the purchase and storage of tons of bullion per day and as a menace to the maintenance of a sound and stable currency; and we demand the repeal of that act.

We heartily commend the action of those democratic representatives in congress from this state who have opposed all measures for silver coinage on a false basis.

We condemn the reckless extravagance of the republican national administration which has needlessly squandered not only a revenue far in excess of expenses of economical government but also the magnificent surplus accumulated by the economy and wise business methods of the preceding democratic administration.

We are opposed to state interference with parental rights and rights of conscience in the education of children, as an infringement of fundamental democratic doctrine. Largest liberty consistent with the rights of others insures the highest type of American citizens and the best government.

We hereby direct the delegates from Wisconsin to the democratic national convention to be held in Chicago, June 21 next, to vote as a unit on all subjects and candidates when and as the majority of the delegation may direct.

We approve the record of the last democratic national administration. We admire the president, whose ability, honesty and devotion to public duty enthroned that administration in the confidence of all good citizens.

We therefore desire our delegates to use all honorable means to nominate for president the man who is in himself the embodiment and guarantee of sound democratic principles—Grover Cleveland.

Connecticut.

Hartford, Conn., May 4.—The republican convention reassembled this morning at 10:30. District and county caucuses previously held selected members of state central committee and nominated delegates and alternates. The committee on permanent organization reported a list of officers headed by Senator Hawley as chairman, and on taking the chair the senator spoke at considerable length.

North Dakota.

Grand Forks, N. D., May 4.—The republican state convention is in session here. President Harrison will be indorsed and delegates favorable to his renomination sent to Minneapolis. The convention will also probably indorse the proposition for the calling of a special session of the legislature to provide for the election of presidential electors and for canvassing the vote of such election and also incidentally to take a further appropriation of $50,000 for the state exhibit at the world's fair, the appropriation of last session, $25,000, having been found insufficient to make a creditable exhibit.

In the course of his speech, Senator Hawley said: "I am not here to say who will be or who should be our nominee for the presidency. I know well how warm a place in the hearts of many of you James G. Blaine has always occupied, and I know well that all republicans were saddened by the announcement of his withdrawal from the candidacy."

The speaker eulogized President Harrison and said he had proved himself one of the ablest statesmen of the line of presidents.

He then discussed the question of the tariff at some length and said that the McKinley act commends itself to the favorable judgment of the real world of business.

He next took up the silver question and said that in his judgment men err not only against economic experience but against morality when they demand that the nation shall pay the holder of 70 cents worth of silver a coin that he may push upon his employes or other creditors for a dollar.

The platform is as follows:

We, the representatives of the republican party of Connecticut in convention assembled, hereby express our devotion to the principles of the party as set forth in the national platform at Chicago in 1888.

We heartily indorse the administration of President Benjamin Harrison. By its fulfillment of every pledge; by its maintenance of the rights and dignity of the nation in all its relations with foreign countries; by its vigorous prosecution of the work of creating a navy worthy of the dignity and requirements of the United States; by its firm and vigorous action in defense of national honor and the rights of American citizens on sea and land; by its brilliant diplomatic successes and unexceptionable judicial appointments; this administration has won imperishable renown and the lasting gratitude of the republic. We believe in the principle of protection to American industries. It has given to this country a greater prosperity than is known to any other nation.

We heartily endorse the McKinley law, whose beneficent results have already demonstrated its wisdom, and we see in in the reciprocity feature of that law an adequate opening for foreign markets to American products, without in any degree infringing upon the policy of protection to American labor.

We denounce the proposed tariff legislation of the democratic party in congress as a covert attack upon the American protective system and insist that all our industries are alike entitled to protection.

We favor such legislation as will prohibit the immigration of paupers and criminals.

We commend the policy of the republican party in maintaing an honest and sufficient currency and assert that to this party alone the people must look for the preservation of the good faith of the nation in all matters of finance.

We reassert the undying gratitude of the republican party to the American volunteer soldier.

We cordially commend the firm, united and patriotic course of the house of representatives in seeking by every honorable means to bring to a solution the existing differences between the two houses concerning the last state election, and we denounce the constant refusal of the senate to join with the house according to the unbroken practice of 70 years, in any reference of such differences to a joint committee or to the supreme court, or to a special non-partisan tribunal, or to join with the house in any investigation to determine the number of votes legally cast and the persons for whom they should have been counted.

Delegates-at-large were elected as follows:

Morgan G. Bulkeley, of Hartford, with L. B. Plympton, of Hartford, as alternates; James P. Platt, of Meriden, with Wm. C. Hough, of Essex, as alternate; Timothy E. Hopkins, of Killingly, with Frederick C. Palmer, of Montville, as alternate; Lorrin A. Cooke, of Riverton, with David Sloan, of Winsted, as alternate.

After the adoption of the platform cheers were given for Harrison, Blaine and Bulkeley.

Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., May 4.—The republican state convention opened here to-day to select delegates-at-large to Minneapolis and the nomination of a governor.

The delegates will probably be instructed for Harrison.

For governor, John E. McCall, of Henderson county, is in the lead, 25 counties having instructed for him. Hon. Winsted, of Weakley, is his most formidable opponent. It is thought McCall will have an easy victory.

Michigan.

Muskegon, Mich., May 4.—This city is crowded with delegates to the democratic state convention which opened here today. It is the first time it has ever entertained so large a crowd, but the citizens have done nobly and are giving the visitors a right hearty welcome. The convention will be held in a wigwam which has a seating capacity of 5,000. The delegates to Chicago will be in favor of Cleveland.

Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., May 4.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon the republican state convention was called to order by Hon. A. M. Jones, chairman of the state central committee. There were 1,235 delegates. Congressman Hopkins was made temporary chairman, and Dr. Joseph Robbins permanent chairman.

Governor Fifer has an overwhelming majority of the delegates and is certain of renomination. All signs also point to the renomination of Lyman B. Ray as lieutenant governor, L. N. Pearson, as secretary of state, and C. W. Pavey, as auditor, although there are candidates in the field for all these offices. The nominations will not be reached until to-morrow. The resolutions will heartily endorse the administration of President Harrison and the delegates-at-large will vote for his nomination.

WOODHULL AND HER FAD

This the Child of Destiny' but an Old One.

In the Language of the Street, More Expressive Than Elegant, Her Wheels Are Working.

Chicago, May 4.—Mrs. Victoria-Claflin-Woodhull-Martin is now in Chicago with her husband, John Biddulph Martin, one of the wealthiest private bankers in England, and a member of the royal commission appointed by the queen to take charge of the English exhibits at the world's fair next year.

Lady Cook, Viscountess of Montserrat, nee Tennessee Claflin, is in Chicago also, while Mrs. Martin's young daughter, Zula Maud Woodhull, is in New York.

"It has been a prophecy," said Mrs. Martin yesterday, "that I should be made president of the United States in 1892. The philosophy of my teaching is getting more deeply grounded in this country every year and between now and next November it will sweep as a storm over the land and I shall receive a triumphant victory at the hands of those who were once my traducers, no less a vindication than the presidency of this great country.

"Our plan of campaign is simple. We have organized Victoria leagues in New York, Pittsburg and here in Chicago. From these central leagues local Victoria leagues will be formed in every city, town and hamlet in the United States. Through these the philosophy of our teachings shall be made known and before fall they shall be known to all.

"We shall return to London in two weeks and in September we will pay another visit to the United States. The convention which will nominate me as the standard bearer of the new party will meet in Chicago in October. I have no doubt as to the success of our movement and I know beyond the peradventure of a doubt that I shall be made the next president of the United States. It is prophecy. It is my destiny."

FIFTEENTH DIST. REPUBLICANS.

Cambridge, O., May 4.—The republican convention for the Fifteenth district met here and nominated W. H. C. Hanna, of Guernsey county, for elector, and Col. John H. Riley, of Washington county, and William H. Johnson, of Muskingum county, as delegates, and H. J. Cleveland, of Noble county, and Col. Cyril Hawkins, of Morgan county, as alternates to the national convention.

LEAVES A FORTUNE.

Chicago, May 4.—Robert D. Fowler, of the Anglo-American Provision company, has died in London of typhoid fever. Mr. Fowler was born in the neighborhood of Belfast Ireland, and was about 53 years old. His fortune is estimated at $1,500,000, and he leaves a wife and six children, all of whom live in England.

ORDER OF THE RED CROSS.

Fremont, O., May 4.—The Order of the Red Cross are holding the seventh annual meeting of the grand lodge in this city. The grand grade was given to new representatives. Reports of the grand officers were read and some minor business transacted.

INDICTED FOR ROBBERY.

Urbana, O., May 4.—The grand jury has completed a two days' session. Two boys, Charles Anderson and Edwin R. Shrouyse, were indicted for highway robbery. They held a man up here a few nights ago.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Lima, O., May 4.—The South Main Street Presbyterian church was struck by lightning during the heavy storm and considerably damaged. A number of houses were struck, but no great damage done nor any one injured.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Kent, O., May 4.—The large barn owned by Lucien March, the dairyman, of near Streetsboro, was struck by lightning last night and burned. It contained 16 head of cattle, all of which were cremated. No insurance.

STRIKE OF SECTION HANDS.

Shelby, O., May 4.—All the men employed on the south section of the Big Four at this place went out on a strike yesterday. They ask for a raise of 10 cents a day. The company have been paying $1.15 per day.

THROUGH WITH A WHIRL

Napoleon Has Voted for Water Works.

The City Will Now Begin to Put on Style.

A New Sewer and Other Improvements Needed—The Young Blood is Now at the Bat.

Napoleon, O., May 4.—(Special)—This city is assured of a waterworks and electric light plant owned and operated by the taxpayers and consumers.

The vote yesterday resulted in an overwhelmingly decisive majority for the project. The poll was light—466—but considering the inclemency of the weather it surprised many, especially the "antis."

This faction, which, as heretofore stated, consisted of the oldest men of the place, turned out and worked all day, but none the less was it contested by the young element, who were sanguine of success from the first.

Out of 466 votes cast, 309 were for and 154 against; three illegal.

This is the fourth time this question has been fought at the polls, and the large majority by which it was carried leaves no room on the part of the council for more tampering with the wishes of the people.

Another Large Undertaking.

The council has for its consideration the construction of an arched brick sewer over a mile in length. Its termini are the west side of Scott street and a creek running into the river a mile distant.

Graveyards Nearly Floating.

The heavy rains of this week have developed the fact that our cemeteries are in a bad condition, due from a poor system of drainage. Graves cannot be dug 16 inches without filling with water almost immediately. In many cases it is alleged bodies have been interred at this depth, which is violating the law. The authorities have been importuned to remedy this great evil at once.

Two of Napoleon's most prominent young people, Mr. M. Reiser and Miss Helen Stockman, stole a march on their acquaintances by entering the matrimonial state. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fischer, in the presence of but a few friends, and the pair started for the east on their honeymoon.

Mr. Reiser is our leading boot and shoe man, while Miss Stockman is one of Napoleon's fairest and most estimable daughters.

MADE A BIG HAUL.

New York Police Get Hold of Some Interesting Evidence.

New York, May 4.—The disreputable houses in what is known as the "Tenderloin" precinct were again raided last night by the police.

Seventy prisoners, most of them women, were gathered in. The houses raided are some of the most notorious in town.

In one of them the police got hold of some rent receipts said to be signed by the owner of the house who was a member of the March grand jury and one of the most vigorous in denouncing the police in interviews published at the time of the famous presentment.

A MILLION AT STAKE.

Heavy Failure of a Western Woolen Company.

St. Louis, May 4.—The Robinson Woolen company of Kansas City, wholesale dealers in suitings, cloths, trimmings, etc., with branch retail stores at St. Louis, Topeka and Wichita, filed a deed of general assignment in all of the four cities simultaneously this morning at 9 o'clock to George C. Emory, of Kansas City, for the benefit of their creditors. Assets estimated at $1,000,000; liabilities unknown.

THE ORDER IS ISSUED

Palacio Will Move on His Enemies.

If Successful in the First Battle He Will Force the Fighting to an Early Finish.

New York, May 4.—A special to the Herald from Barcelona, Venezuela, says Palacio has sent an army from the capital to engage the enemy.

A battle may be expected soon north of Caracas. The object of the president in this move seems to be to draw the revolutionists away from Valencia and Calabozo, which they now surround, preventing communication between the government generals, Ybarra, Araujo and Casanas, who are located in these towns, and the capital.

If Palacio's forces should prove victorious they will undoubtedly march to the relief of the besieged city.

Palacio seems to have arrived at the conclusion that he must act aggressively or the federalists will become so powerful that they will sweep all before them.

WAR ON SALOONKEEPERS.

Mt. Vernon, O., May 4.—War has been declared on the saloonkeepers of this city by Mrs. Legrand Headington, whose husband has been in jail for intoxication. This morning she caused the arrest of Mit. J. Davis and William R. Hague, the latter proprietor of the Rawley house, charging them with selling liquor on Sunday. Davis pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Hague will stand trial. Other arrests will follow.

HIGHLY SENSATIONAL.

Canton, O., May 4.—The sensational Snyder-Albright case has been put off until May 10 to allow the prosecutor to obtain important witnesses. This is a suit in which it is claimed Albright gave a note for $30,000 to conceal the publicity of a written confession made, acknowledging his intimacy with Snyder's wife. It is alleged the latter refused the payment of this note and the suit is brought to collect the same.

REPUBLICANS CARRY FT. WAYNE.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 4.—In the city elections the republicans carried the day. Only a councilman from each ward and a waterworks trustee were voted for, the latter, H. C. Graff, democrat, having no opposition. Out of ten wards the republicans carried seven, a gain of six. This leaves the council three democrats on joint ballot.

LAWING OVER A LAMB.

London, May 4.—Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Dodds have been arrested on a charge of petit larceny, preferred by Harry Yates, and they in turn have had him arrested on a charge of blackmail. Mr. and Mrs. Dodds, it seems, took up and cared for a crippled [illegible] found by the wayside, but belonging to Yates, and this led to trouble.

INSPECTION.

Ada, May 4.—Capt. Jesse M. Lee, Ninth infantry inspector general, will inspect the Ohio Normal University military department. The department has never before shown as well as at present. Four full companies have been eagerly engaged in preparation.

HE TOOK TOO MUCH.

Warren, May 4.—Leroy Beardsley, a prominent farmer living in Lordstown, attempted suicide by taking paris green. He took an overdose and the prompt use of emetics and a stomach pump will probably save his life.

HARE IS THE MAN.

He Will Have No Opposition for the Nomination—A New Judge.

Tiffin, O., May 4.—(Special)—The committee will meet in a few days to call the democratic convention to nominate a candidate for common pleas judge to succeed Hon. John H. Ridgely, a Tiffin republican who defeated Judge Dodge, of Wood county, five years ago. It is conceded that the nomination will fall to some member of the Seneca county bar and Judge J. C. Royer, Judge J. F. Bunn, Hon. J. M. Schaufelberger, Hon. J. H. Platt and one or two others are mentioned as probable candidates. The district is republican by several hundred, but a popular democrat can win.

The indications are that Hon. Darius D. Hare, who represents the old Eighth district in congress, will have smooth sailing in the new Thirteenth. Two years ago he was pitted against Charlie Foster and his peculiar methods in a close district and won after one of the most memorable congressional campaigns ever conducted in this section of the state. This year he will have no opposition in the new Thirteenth and has a majority anywhere from 5,000 to 7,000 to fall back upon.

HE'S A FORAKER MAN

And the Sherman Men Are After Him.

Judge King Trying to Explain Away His Vote in Cincinnati for C. P. Griffin.

Canton, O., May 4.—Judge L. W. King, of Youngstown, who is a candidate for congress in this district, in an interview here to-day, denies the story that he voted for Charles P. Griffin as temporary chairman of the Ohio republican convention at the meeting of the state central committee held in Columbus, or that he tore or destroyed his ballot.

He gives as evidence of his statement a document signed by those members of the central committee who attended the state convention at Cleveland, in which they say that Judge King voted in their presence and where his actions could be seen, and that he did not tear up or destroy his ballot. The judge said: "I have written to the author of the story assuring him that unless I receive from him an unqualified retraction and apology I shall post him throughout the state as a willful and malicious liar.

"I have also requested that every member of the state central committee who knows anything respecting my vote on that occasion to write me at Salem, Ohio, stating all the facts as they remember them. The only reason why anybody could reasonably suppose that I would under the circumstances have voted for Mr. Griffin is the fact that I have refused to join in the howls against ex-Gov. Foraker.

"In my own county the friends of Sherman and the closest friends and warmest supporters of Gov. McKinley are enthusiastically supporting my candidacy. My own people know that I have been the friend of Foraker but never his servant; they know, too that I never followed him where it seemed to me his leadership meant injury to the republican party."

ON A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Henry R. Weimer, of Dalton, O., in Jail,

Charged with Murdering His Pretty Step-Daughter—A Most Sensational Case.

Wooster, O., May 4.—Henry R. Weimer, of Dalton, was arrested and jailed on a charge of murdering Ada Ebersole. On the night of March 26, Miss Ada Ebersole, 18 years old, a very pretty young woman, after less than three days' sickness, died in terrible agony, and under circumstances that aroused suspicion.

Before the remains were cold in death an undertaker was called in and the body embalmed, and on the following Monday taken out of the state for interment.

The attending physician was in doubt as to the cause of death, and with four physicians, Drs. Greenmyer and McMillan of Orrville, Drs. Pope and Roebuck of Dalton, held a post mortem that resulted in the finding of arsenic in such quantity as to have caused her death.

It was openly charged that the girl had been deliberately poisoned by her stepfather, Henry R. Weimer, in order to secure possession of a little property she owned in the village, and his arrest followed to-day.

The officers claim to have such evidence as will convict.

Weimer was arrested on an affidavit made by Dr. Pope, a leading physician of Dalton, where the parties reside. The affidavit charges that the girl's death was caused by poison—arsenic—administered by Weimer. The accused was taken to the county jail to await a preliminary examination on Friday. Dr. Pope made the complaint for the reason that the friends of Weimer claimed that death was caused by medicine given by the attending physicians, Pope being one of them. Excitement runs high in the village, and it is probable that Mrs. Weimer will also be arrested.

OTTAWA'S SCHOOL MUDDLE.

The Board Stands by the Superintendent—A New Examination Ordered.

Ottawa, O., May 4.—(Special)—A few days ago charges were preferred against School Superintendent J. M. Hall by some members of the class that he had favored one pupil to the detriment of others by giving him a tip as to what the questions for examination would be.

The case created much excitement and the superintendent demanded an investigation. Four hundred people attended the meeting to hear all the evidence in the case, the complainants being represented by counsel, while the superintendent looked after his own case.

The board retired, and after a short time returned and President W. W. Sutton read the verdict.

The superintendent is cleared of any shade of suspicion of unfair work, and the "class honors" are abolished for the future. In order to quiet all talk a new examination of the class was ordered in astronomy.

SHERMAN A POSSIBILITY.

Should President Harrison Not be Nominated Honest John May.

New York, May 4.—Considerable speculation is being indulged in just now among republican politicians over the possible outcome of the Minneapolis convention. The cordial indorsement of the administration by the Albany convention of last week, as well as by the Ohio convention on the same day, is, of course, largely in favor of the renomination of President Harrison. Still, there are some republicans who are inclined to the opinion that another candidate might be stronger before the country at large.

There are many who still hope for the nomination of Secretary Blaine, whose strength in the Empire stated is undoubted. Gov. McKinley, of Ohio, and Robert Lincoln, of Illinois, have each his friends. Within the last two or three days there has grown up a sentiment for Senator John Sherman, of Ohio, which is attracting no little attention among the republicans of New York, where the Ohio veteran is highly popular.

FATAL COLLISION.

Mendota, Ill., May 4.—A passenger train on the Illinois Central road ran into an open switch on which a freight train was standing, last evening and struck the freight head on, instantly killing the passenger engineer and slightly injuring the fireman and two mail clerks.

HEARING THE REPORTS

Work of the Methodists at Omaha.

Church Extension and the Order of Deaconesses.

Grand Mass Meeting Presided Over by Bishop Foss—Routine Doings of the Conference.

Omaha, Neb., May 4.—The afternoon session of the conference was devoted to the hearing of the report of the committee on constitution appointed four years ago, and the preliminary work of appointing committees.

Bishop Foss presided and Bishop Merrill called up the report of the committee. The report was read by Dr. T. B. Neeley, of Philadelphia. After giving a brief review of the various meetings of the committee, Dr. Neeley presented the changes and recommendations suggested in the report. Among other things suggested was a cahnge in the arrangement of the discipline. Material change was recommended in the rules or in the wording of the discipline, but the committee thought the book could be arranged to much better advantage. The report also suggested that the date for opening the general conference be fixed on the first Wednesday of May every four years instead of the first day in May.

It also recommended that the ministerial and lay delegates vote together in the general conference on all questions except those intended to make a change in the organic law of the church. At present the ministerial delegation vote first and the lay delegates follow. This plan has become quite unpopular among the lay delegates, and the recommendation of the committee on this point will probably meet with approval. The report also recommends that no annual conference should be organized with less than 30 traveling ministers with concurrent vote of three-fourths of the delegates of all the annual conference be sufficient to authorize the general conference to make changes in the organic law of the church.

John Ray, a member of the committee, submitted a minority report, differing in some respects from the majority report from a few points. The reports were ordered printed, and will be taken up as a special order next Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

In addition to the usual standing committees, the conference decided to have several special committees appointed. A committee, consisting of one from each annual conference, was appointed on the temperance and the overthrow of the liquor traffic and a committee of equal size was appointed on the Epworth league.

The discussion of these two subjects indicated that the conference is very deeply interested in both subjects and radical action is anticipated. Many of the delegates declare that the temperance cause was one of the most important matters to be considered by the conference, and the Epworth league had become one of the vital arms of the church, and should be fittingly recognized by the conference.

A special committee was also appointed to consider the order of deaconnesses. Resolutions were passed returning thanks to the citizens of Omaha, and especially the mayor and city council, for the magnificent reception tendered the conference delegates on Monday night. The conference accepted the invitation of the citizens of Lincoln and the president of the Nebraska Wesleyan university to visit Lincoln on May 7.

A great mass meeting was held last night in the interest of the church extension work. Bishop Foss presided and addresses were made by Dr. Kynett and Dr. Spencer, of Philadelphia.

Bishop Warren, the millionaire bishop, of Denver, presided at the opening session of to-day's Methodist conference. Dr. Myley, of New York, canducted the devotional exercises. Many changes had been made in the hall during the night. Back of the stage the portraits of bishops had been hung on the wall, and fine water colors and flags decorated the walls. Chancellor Creighton, of Lincoln, at once moved that all the necessary motions and ex-parte remarks be eliminated from the record before it be printed, but Dr. Neely, of Philadelphia, opposed this, saying that the record should be a true, not a garbled one, but Dr. Pendleton, of Kansas, had it tabled.

Bishop Andrews announced the following committees: Rules of order—A. C. Carpenter, Northwest Iowa; J. M. Buckley, Central Ohio; Earl Crane, Colorado; D. W. Cunningham, South Kansas. Reception of fraternal delegates—T. B. Fisk, Detroit; G. H. Brideman, Minnesota; W. H. Beach, Newark; J. C. Hartsell, Louisiana; J. B. Maxfield, Nebraska.

The order of business was then taken up and Bishop Foster began reading the episcopal address.

LEFT RUIN BEHIND IT

A Storm Sweeps Through the State of Missouri.

A Number of People Killed, Others Badly Injured and Much Property Destroyed.

Pattonsburg, Mo., May 4.—About 3:30 o'clock p. m. Monday a cyclone passed through DeKalb county in a northwesterly direction, sweeping everything before it.

It wrecked the home of Mr. Sharp, seriously injuring him and killing his wife.

It also killed a Miss Boyd.

Crossing Grand river at Williams Ford, it cut a swath 100 yards wide through a thickly settled farming district, wrecking buildings, etc., for a distance of ten or twelve miles.

It mangled many horses, and at the homes of Alfred and James Daniels the former's wife was fatally hurt, dying in a short time, while he and his baby were badly hurt.

At James Daniels' three young people were badly but not dangerously hurt.

From Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Man., May 4.—Reports received from the northwest territories indicate that last week's storm in Manitoba, in which two settlers lost their lives, was quite as severe in the northwest.

The MacLeod mail, which left that town on Monday, has not yet been heard from. The driver did not reach the first stopping place, 50 miles from MacLeod, and it is supposed that he has been lost on the prairie.

Dr. Lovingheart, who left nearly two weeks ago for Knee Hill creek for coal, has not been heard of since, and it is supposed that he has been lost in the storm. A party of mounted police have gone out to search for the missing men.

FOSTORIA.

Fostoria, O., May 4.—(Special)—The Salvation Army has laid the corner stone of their new barracks in this city.

The commencement of the Fostoria High schools takes place on May 27. The graduating class is composed of Misses Mary Ebersole, Zoa Padgham, Lena Lenhart, Fannie Miller, Jessie Watson and Mr. Will Rhodes.

J. J. Eissler will leave next week for a three months' visit to his relatives in the fatherland.

CUT HER TO PIECES

A Most Horrible Tale from Chicago.

Jack the Ripper's Work Far Outdone.

A Woman Chopped Into Mince Meat.

Terrible Sight a Trusting Husband Found.

Within an Hour the Guilty Man, Who Was the Woman's Nephew, Had Confessed and Was Behind the Bars.

Chicago, May 4.—A murder, the shocking details of which savor more of uncivilized butchery than has been known in Chicago for years was committed between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening in the home of Michael Walsh at No. 344 Washburne avenue. His wife, Bridget Elizabeth Walsh, met death in a manner that rivals for cruelty and horror the fates of numerous victims in the London White Chapel district. Her slayer, who, from the evidence so far in the hands of the police, must have been a man, succeeded in covering his crime long enough to make his escape without leaving a single clew by which his identity could be established.

At the usual time yesterday morning Walsh left home to go to work. He is a teamster in the employ of J. V. Farwell & Co., and usually went out early in order to have his team in readiness. As he passed through the kitchen where his wife was washing dishes he bade her good-bye in accordance with a custom he had for a long time followed.

In the same kitchen where he had bidden her a happy good-bye but a few hours before, he beheld the terrible evidence of her death, and in an adjoining bedroom found her remains, mutilated and torn as though that fiend of fiends, Jack the Ripper, had changed the scene of his operations from London to Chicago, with the intention, perhaps, of carrying out the same line of horrible murders, adding victim after victim, and carrying terror to the hearts of the community. The remains were hidden beneath a pile of rags.

Contrary to his expectations, Walsh returned home a few minutes after 6 o'clock. He tried the front door, but found it locked. He went around the house to the rear door leading to the kitchen. There was a fire burning in the stove, the evening meal had been partially prepared, and the cooking utensils were in their accustomed places.

But scattered over the floor were little scraps of paper, and Walsh stooped to examine them. They were pieces of newspaper, and without giving the matter a second thought he started in search of his wife, going to the front of the house, where he expected to find her. For 15 minutes he had searched for his wife in vain, and he began to fear that some harm had befallen her. The preparations that had been made for supper, the fire in the kitchen stove, the general appearance of the house, seemed to indicate, he argued to himself, that she had not been long away, and that she had not gone with the intention of abandoning her work.

Suddenly it occurred to him that there was no reason for such a strong and disagreeable odor in the bedroom. Not satisfied with what he had seen there, he returned only to be horrified at discovering what he had not seen when he was in the place the first time.

The room was partially darkened, as the window curtains had been lowered. He raised them and examined the first object that had met his gaze when he entered a quarter of an hour before—the piles of rags. The first piece of cloth he lifted was stained with blood, and it was then that the suspicions of his wife's death crept into his mind. With one hand he threw the pile aside, and there on the blood-stained carpet was the body of his wife. Sixty-five gashes, varying in length from half an inch to a foot, told the story of a death that had come only after a violent struggle, as was shown by the disarrangement of the furniture and the spattering of blood. Were there not evidences of human skill in the mutilation of the remains, it would be difficult to believe that the crime was the work of man.

Not satisfied with killing his victim, the slayer had so horribly disfigured the corpse that even Walsh himself could hardly realize himself at first that he was gazing on the dead body of his own wife. From the crown of the woman's head to her feet there were cuts in every conceivable direction.

The wounds were most numerous in her breast and lower limbs, where the flesh was ripped in places and hacked until the skin hung in threads. Along the upper part of her right leg was a gash over a foot in length, from which the blood oozed in little streams. Along either side of the wound was a row of smaller gashes, that had been made with an idea of regularity.

They were of uniform length and evenly arranged, as if to give a horribly artistic finish to the work. Over each eye was a deep cut, another beneath the right ear, another along the left cheek, and still another on the neck under the chin.

In the left breast immediately over the heart was a pair of long-bladed scissors that had been driven into the flesh. Immediately under them was a round hole resembling very closely such a one as would have been made by a bullet, but there was no trace of powder burns.

A broom that had been carried from the kitchen into the bedroom had been broken and the handle was thrust through the entire length of the woman's trunk, from the lower portion to the throat. Pieces of vital organs had been torn off and carried along by the blunt end of the wood, and the mouth was filled with a mass of blood and flesh.

The broom handle must have been thrust up with terrible force, for the body was fearfully torn and portions of organs were left lying on the floor.

All of the wounds, it was evident, had been inflicted by the use of the scissors. The edges of the gashes were rough and notched, as if the body had been cut by forward strokes. At the lower part of the trunk this was especially manifest, where the flesh was cut and torn.

For a moment the sight of his wife's body so unnerved Walsh that he was unable to act. Recovering himself, he notified the police. In the room where the remains were was a narrow bed, and on this there were three pillows covered with blood. On the wall, too, were great splotches, and the bed clothing was stained. The rags that had covered Mrs. Walsh, among which was the clothing she had worn in the morning, for her body was nude when found, were also dripping with blood. The police made a hasty survey of the situation.

Within four hours after the murder, Mrs. Walsh's self-convicted murderer was arrested. He was Thomas Walsh, of No. 143 Washburn avenue, the dead woman's nephew.

When taken to the station house Walsh acknowledged that he was the guilty party. He said that they had been drinking beer, and that he had made an improper proposal to Mrs. Walsh, whereupon she slapped his face. He drew a knife and stabbed her, and the sight of blood suddenly drove him insane, with the result that he mangled and tore the woman as related.

WON BY A BOY.

Henry McDonald, 18 Years Old, Inherits a Large Fortune.

San Francisco, May 4.—Probate Judge Coffey has rendered a decision in favor of Henry McDonald, 18-year-old son of Capt. C. E. McDonald, deceased, in the contest over the latter's estate, valued at $150,000. The boy claims to be the offspring of Capt. McDonald and Mrs. Ranome, the actress, better known as Claude Lee, and the question of paternity was made the issue on the part of McDonald's relatives. Judge Coffey decided that the paternity of the boy had been proved; that the acts of his father constituted public recognition and adoption, and that the boy is entitled to the estate.

WANT THE LAW REPEALED

Lutherans Opposed to Compulsory Education.

Important Resolutions Adopted at the Illinois Synod Held in Chicago.

Chicago, May 4.—The Illinois conference of the German Lutheran Missouri synod took important action on the compulsory school law question. Resolutions were adopted demanding the unconditional repeal of the Illinois law. The resolutions declare:

"Whereas, We cannot attain this end without the aid of one of the two great political parties, we must unite all our forces, even as one man, with one of these parties to form a power, which election of Henry Raab as state superintendent of school shows, controls the whole state.

"Resolved, We shall unanimously support that party and its respective candidates which unreservedly sustains as to school law right principles, and furnishes us in regard to the past as well as the future, the best guarantee for the maintenance of the same. The school committee in accord with these resolutions shall examine into the platforms and state of affairs of both political parties and determine accordingly with which party we shall vote."

INDIAN TROUBLES.

The Cheyennes Object to Having Their Lands Taken.

Kansas City, May 4.—The Journal's Kingfisher, O. T., special says: Considerable excitement still exists over the ugly attitude assumed by the Cheyenne Indians towards the settlers on the lands recently opened to settlement.

Gov. Seay regards the situation perilous enough to demand his presence in the western counties, and he passed through here en route there.

A company of United States troops from Fort Reno will follow him to-morrow. White Shield, the Cheyenne chief, is the leader of the ugly Indians.

He says the Indians never wanted to give up their lands to the whites, and now that they have been compelled to do so the whites must feed and clothe them. Another cause for alarm is the fact that the town of Cheyenne is building on the site of the burial ground where the Indians killed by Gen. Custer in 1868 were buried.

The Indians regard the locating of the town there as the greatest sacrilege and threaten to burn it and massacre the inhabitants.

SLICED TO DEATH.

Awful Punishment Inflicted on a Chinese Rebel.

London, May 4.—The Standard's correspondent at Shanghai says: One of the chiefs who took a prominent part in the Choyang rebellion was recently captured and was brought to Tien Tsin, a city 70 miles from Pekin, to be tried.

He was found guilty, and as a warning to all who rebelled against the government he was ordered to be executed in a most horrible and agonizing manner.

The sentence put on the unfortunate was that he be slowly sliced to death, and the awful punishment was inflicted in a pitiless manner.

WAGON TOOK FIRE.

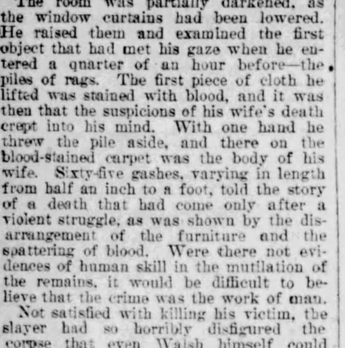
HEALTHY. HAPPY. WHY?



Is he a bright child? Does he look healthy and happy? He is bright, and he is both healthy and happy. He is the little son of Mrs. Henry T. Bowers, wife of the well-known contractor and builder, who resides in Dorchester avenue, South Boston. Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

"I have a little boy two and one-half years of age, the perfect picture of rugged health, and also a little girl of four. I attribute their good health and good temper to the use of Dr. Hand's Remedies.

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

STAR CHAMBER SESSION

Canadian Conspirators Now on Trial.

The Court Room Cleared and Reporters Ordered to Leave—Great Indignation Shown.

Montreal, May 4.—Great interest was evinced in the opening of the trial of ex-Premier Mercier, Hon. Charles Langlier and Ernest Pecaud on the charge of conspiracy in connection with the Langlais contract. The trial commenced in the police court room, which was packed.

Mercier was early in court, and appeared in excellent humor, greeting Pecaud with "Hello, conspirator." He refused to say anything, and says that if an interview appears attributed to him it is entirely unauthorized.

Judge Chauveau, on ascending the bench, stated that the first case to be called would be that of Mercier and Pecaud, Langlier's being postponed at the instance of his counsel.

The judge then made a statement to the fact that the investigation, which was entirely preliminary, would be made in private, and requested all except the prisoners, counsel and witnesses to withdraw. The press representatives asked whether they were included in this order, and were answered in the affirmative.

They then retired under protest, along with several members of parliament. The judge subsequently stated that the press would be given such part of the testimony as the court might see fit after each day's sitting.

This action of Judge Chauveau created great indignation, and was much commented on. The counsel who will defend Mercier, Langlier and Pecaud include Fitzpatrick, Lemeux and Greenshields, who were lawyers for the defense in the trial of Louis Riel at Regina after the northwest rebellion. The trial is likely to last some days, as a host of witnesses are summoned.

HEAVY STORMS.

Tiffin, O., May 4.—A very severe storm has prevailed in this section at intervals since Sunday, and 4.2 inches of rain has fallen. Several houses were struck by lightning west of here. A sawmill over on the edge of Wood county was burned to the ground, entailing a loss of $10,000, and the barn of Adam Poller, with six horses, 1,000 bushels of grain and farming utensils was also consumed. Both were struck by lightning.

SPORTING GOSSIP.

Rain Spoiled All the Games in the Western Association.

Rain prevented any games in the Western association yesterday, and judging from the weather reports it is liable to snow in St. Paul to-day. The League fared but little better. Boston shut Chicago out, 3 to 0, and Louisville did the same thing for Baltimore, 4 to 0. Pittsburg and Brooklyn played two games and broke even.

The Toledo stockholders of the Clyde National bank have been notified of a 6 per cent. dividend due them. This is a good showing for a new bank. Messrs. James Secor, F. T. Lane, Leander Burdick and W. H. Maher, of this city, are interested in the institution.

Col. J. E. Parsons has completed the plans for his new block at the Wagon Works. The front will be fine, and the building will be very substantial throughout. The stores will be 31 and 27 feet wide respectively, and 100 feet deep. The second story will be used for offices and living apartments.

PUT THIS IN YOUR PIPE.

A Tip to Farmers' Alliance Congressmen from Secretary Smith.

Probably no one man has labored more zealously for the defeat of the Hatch grain bill, now pending in congress, than Secretary D. B. Smith, of the Toledo Produce Exchange, and every point against it has been forwarded to Washington by him in double quick time. Yesterday he found another opportunity for a hit, and it was immediately embraced in the following telegram to Congressman Harter:

"The secretary of Duluth board of trade telegraphs me that deliveries of wheat there on May contracts exceed ten million bushels. The information is authentic and reliable. Please put at the crazy Farmers' alliance members, who claim that grain is delivered on contracts.

"DENISON B. SMITH."

A BATCH OF ARRESTS

Made On Account of the Stabbing Affray at Ironville.

The police had a lively time yesterday hunting for the assailants of Michael Yamber, who was stabbed in a saloon below the shipyards Monday night. Several detectives and patrolmen scoured the neighborhood, but found great difficulty in obtaining any information, as all the parties concerned are Hungarians, and those few who can speak English refuse to tell anything. It is thought, however, that the two men arrested yesterday morning are implicated in the affair. Yesterday evening the police arrested eight more Huns on suspicion of knowing something of the cutting. They were Steve Toth, Balda Hager, John Huscivar, Mike Hager, Frank Celvide, John Toth, James Kelley and Steve Konei.

Yamber is somewhat better to-day, and will likely recover.

UNION EPWORTH SOCIAL

At St. John's Last Night—Big Crowd and Big Time.

The union social of the various Epworth chapters of the Methodist churches of the city at St. John's church last night was a decided success. The parlors were almost completely packed, and all enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. The local chapter had handsomely decorated the church, the colors, cross, etc., appearing in profusion. After an hour of social conversation, the assembly was called to order by President L. S. Churchill. "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," was sang with a will, and after prayer Mr. Churchill made a neat address of welcome. Brief talks followed by Messrs. Woolson, of St. Paul's; Crofts, of Bethany, and Stack, of Clark Street. Mrs. L. S. Churchill and Miss Lizzie Quick rendered a selection on the piano very acceptably, and the rest of the time was taken up in becoming acquainted. Ice cream and cake were served during the evening. On the whole, the occasion was one of pleasant character. The next social will be given at St. Paul's on the evening of June 14.

MAJOR FRANK ZAHM

Tells of the Climate in France and Other Things.

Speaking of the climate in the south of France, Mr. Frank Zahm said to a Bee this morning: "I don't think much of it, and yet that section is considered the most healthful portion of the country. One must be acclimated to the climate, and then the natives are puny and consumptive. The country is pretty, that much is admitted by all who see it and there are many curiosities and antiquities, but give me America.

"I was ill going over and ill while there, and, perhaps, for that reason I was more dissatisfied than I otherwise would have been. But that many Americans go abroad just for the name of having been abroad, I am fully convinced. Why, you can't see ten well-dressed and intelligent-looking people from morning till night on the street in France where you would see one hundred in New York. And then they are robbers. Of course when one has been abroad several times and has a currier to meet him at the boat and fight his battles for him and check his baggage and all that kind of thing, it makes life easier. I was never so glad to see the stars and stripes before as I was upon my return home this time."

THE BRICKLAYERS.

It Looks as Though the Advance Would Be Conceded.

Only two firms are without bricklayers today, as all the others have conceded the advance, and are paying their men 50 cents an hour. Gorman Bros. and John Schaal are, it is said, at the union headquarters; the two firms that have not yet agreed to the new scale, and their men are not at work. It is expected they will give the advance, and the concession may be made today.

GAS FROM OIL.

Chicago People Have a Plan, and Are Trying to Interest Toledoans.

A party of Chicagoans are in the city with the view of starting a company for the manufacture of fuel gas from oil. They claim to have an apparatus that will revolutionize the business.

They called on G. E. Lorenz and other oil men yesterday, but inasmuch as they require Toledo capitalists to take a large block of stock the gentlemen so far have not been very successful.

THE CHOLERA INVITED

To Visit Toledo—The Street Commissioner Issues the Invitations.

Never in the history of Toledo have the alleys and byways of the city been in such an unsightly and unwholesome condition. These issue standing invitations to the cholera and all other plagues to visit Toledo this summer.

The alleys between St. Clair street and Summit and between Superior and St. Clair, particularly back of the Boody, smell to heaven. The street commissioner, of course, has no time to attend to this matter. He cannot spare the time from his hang-out on Monroe street.

It will not be Mr. Bower's fault if half the population of Toledo is not wiped out in the next four or five months.

'TWAS A GRAND OPENING

The People's Outfitting Company Had Yesterday—Music and Souvenirs.

The People's Outfitting company opened their elegant new store, which is the one formerly occupied by O'Brien & Connelly, under very flattering circumstances. Throngs of people called during the day and made the most of a good opportunity of viewing that which the name of the company implies, "People's Outfitting Establishment," which consists of three floors well stocked with the latest equipments for keeping house. Parlor suits, clocks, stoves, folding beds, bedroom sets, etc., besides a fine display of carpets and rugs. The Marine band furnished music during the afternoon, and those who called were presented with dainty souvenirs suitable for the occasion. The firm is now ready for business, and will take pleasure in showing goods.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

A Pair of Kids Next Week—The Pay Train—Florida on Wheels.

The Pay Train played to another crowded house at the People's last night, and will probably have great business all week. Florence Bindley is a favorite wherever she goes, and Toledo is no exception.

Ezra Kendall.

Everybody who enjoys fun will be sure to get all they could desire in A Pair of Kids at the People's Theater next week. As to plot the author does not court scrutiny, but in the matter of bright comedy, mirth-provoking tricks and downright drollery, the piece is contrived to evoke an abundance of merry-making. Mr. Kendall has the reputation of giving a very clever performance, the conception and execution being highly humorous and entertaining creations.

A Beautiful Exhibit of Florida Products.

What may be truly termed a "palace car" arrived in the city last week, and is side-tracked at the Union depot, where it will remain several days. The car comes from Florida, is constructed from Florida woods, ornamented with views of Florida scenery, and contains a wonderfully complete exhibit of Florida products and resources. An inspection of the exhibit reveals the presence of fruits, wines, palms, birds, live alligators, nuts, fish and everything that the favored Land of Flowers has to offer the world. Among the novelties is a sponge seven and a half feet in circumference, and a silver king fish weighing 145 pounds. The exhibition is certainly well worth a visit, and an outlay of 10 cents admission, which is charged as a means of partially defraying expenses. The car will be open daily from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Ladies are especially invited and will be waited upon by polite attendants.

THE WATER WORKS TRUSTEES

Organize for the Year, and Continue the Old Employes in the Harness.

The water works trustees held their annual meeting last evening with all members present, and organized by electing Mr. L. K. Parks, president, to succeed Mr. D. C. Shaw.

Bids were received for numerous pipe extensions and referred to committees.

An invitation was also received requesting that the board be represented at the water works convention to be held in New York, May 17. It is probable that two of the members will attend.

After the routine business had been transacted the board consulted together and finally decided to continue all the employes of the department, including the superintendent, Mr. H. C. Cotter.

THE RED CROSS.

Complimentary Reference to the Toledo Men in Office.

The Grand Commandery of the Order of Red Cross opened its annual session at Fremont this morning. The News, published at Fremont, gives a brief history of the organization and the present grand officers, the reference to the Toledo gentlemen being as follows:

Mr. Walter Pickens has been a resident of Toledo 25 years. His was the first name on the charter list for a commandery in Ohio. He was the first past commander of Peter Cooper No. 1, and was the first grand commander in Ohio. He served one unexpired term as supreme lieutenant-commander, and for the past five years has been supreme treasurer. Mr. Pickens brings to the order large experience in public affairs, both civic and fraternal, and few names are better known throughout the state. He is an earnest advocate and supporter of beneficiary organizations. As a public speaker he is fluent, forcible and convincing. The present era of advancement and prosperity in the Order of the Red Cross, dated from his advent in the councils of the supreme body.

Probably no member of the order has served as many years in the position of the executive head of fraternal societies as Grand Commander John D. Irving. In 1885 he was elected grand master workman of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, the pioneer beneficiary order, and it is recorded to his credit, that during no previous or subsequent year, did the order in Ohio attain so large an increase of membership as during his administration. He possesses wonderful energy, disproportionate to his physical endurance. While the last year shows gratifying results for the O. R. C. in Ohio, it is as certain as any future event that may be anticipated from cause and effect, that if the last grand commandery had not constructively opposed an increase of commanderies and Mr. Irving had not suffered from a severe and protracted illness, the year just closed would have been memorable.

In the entire order there is not a more devoted member than Mr. Albert Sheeler, a charter member of Toledo commandery No. 4. At the institution of the grand commandery of Ohio, in April, 1886, he was elected grand scribe, and at every annual meeting thereafter he has been re-elected to that very responsible position, second in importance to no other office in the grand commandery.

In addition to the necessary scholarly attainments, he possesses a temperament not easily ruffled by the more or less perplexing duties connected with his office. If the officers of subordinate commanderies have thought him too exacting, it is because he insists that business submitted to him be, in all respects, accurate and reliable. He will not have it otherwise; and in this he has the indorsement of every member who desires to have the work done in a systematic and trustworthy manner. A personal acquaintance with Grand Scribe is the only assurance needed that he is a genial and courteous gentleman.

John C. Wuerfel has been the grand treasurer since the organization of the grand commandery, and it is safe to say he will be so continued as long as he consents to serve. He is one of Toledo's foremost business men, being part owner and manager of the Toledo Foundry and Machine company.

AN INVITATION EXTENDED

By Rev. Charles Scadding to Toledo Commandery, K. T.

An invitation has been extended by Rev. Charles Scadding, rector of Trinity church, to Toledo Commandery, Knights Templar, to visit the church and participate in the festival of the Ascension, to be commemorated on Thursday evening, May 26, and it is expected the same will be accepted. The matter will come up for action at the regular conclave on Friday evening. There will also be work in the Red Cross at this meeting, with the attendant banquet.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.

Mrs. Bridget Rooney's Death This Afternoon.

The Bee made mention Monday evening of the serious illness of Mrs. Bridget Rooney. This afternoon the lady died from the attack of the grip. Mrs. Rooney was taken ill on Sunday, and all that could be done to alleviate her sufferings was accomplished, but her age, 67 years, was against medical skill, and the end came as announced. The deceased was the wife of Mr. Edward Rooney, and the mother of Mr. Thomas E. Rooney, the well-known printer, who by the way was the only son. The family will have the sincere sympathy in the affliction that has come upon them. Date of funeral will be announced later.

ALWAYS IN THE LEAD.

Bowers & Bowers, proprietors of the City Steam Laundry works, on Jefferson street, have again found it necessary to increase their capacity.

They have just received and set up two more new washers, and two new and improved shirt body ironers. This improved machinery, in addition to their already extended facilities, it is hoped will enable them to keep up with their large run of business.

The people of Toledo, it seems, are very appreciative of first-class laundry work.

MILK CRUST ON BABY

Kept Spreading Until His Face Was a Raw Sore. He Scratched Until Blood Ran.

Best Physicians Said No Cure While Teething. He Was Cured Promptly by Cuticura.

Something over two years ago, our boy, then less than one year old, was troubled with an eruption on his head, pronounced by our best physicians to be a case of "milk crust or infantile eczema." They also said that it would be impossible to cure it until after he had finished teething. This malady kept spreading until his face was a raw sore, and every few days he would draw his finger nails down on both cheeks, removing the scabs, and the blood running down on his chin made him present a ghastly sight. We commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and in two weeks we noticed a wonderful improvement, and in two months his face was fresh and fair, and has been perfectly well ever since. We unhesitatingly give all credit to CUTICURA.

C. B. WILLIAMS, Fort Dodge, Iowa.

Scaly Humor 17 Years.

I was afflicted for seventeen years with a scaly and blotchy humor over my entire breast. At times I would scratch till soreness compelled me to cease. After reading your advertisements at different times, I concluded to give CUTICURA a trial, and, to my astonishment as well as satisfaction, I was cured with one set of CUTICURA REMEDIES, in about two and a half weeks. That has been nearly two years since, and no symptoms of return.

It seems very difficult for Mr. Thomas Reed to realize that he is no longer mentor of the house of representatives. He needs sitting down upon very hard.

The Briggs and anti-Briggs men in New York are nearly as much talked about as the Cleveland and anti-Cleveland. Religious and political warfare have striking similarities.

The Inter-Ocean says "Ohio republicans will carry harmony to Minneapolis in bottles," and the Times advises the use of rubber bottles, because "the sort of harmony existing between Foraker and Sherman would corrode glass."

The free binding twine bill passed the house of representatives by a good majority. Thus, one by one, the excrescences of the McKinley monstrosity are being lopped off by that democratic body. The republican senate must now go on record and must "fish or cut bait."

If anything were needed beyond the testimony furnished in President Harrison's deeds and Postmaster-General Wanamaker's words, to show how civil service laws are held in contempt by this administration, Secretary Foster's evidence before the house committee on civil service reform has furnished that missing link.

The czar has offered 100,000 roubles for the apprehension of the printers of some distributed pamphlets in which it is said that the czar and his government is to blame for the famine and the distress of the people. The guilty autocrat is afraid of his half-starved subjects. He would better use the reward money to buy bread for the suffering.

The high protective tariff advocates fail to tell us—if the exporter pays the tax, whether it means an increase of tax for our own people when their exports to foreign countries, protected like our own, increase in volume? Foreign sellers pay the tax for us; do we pay the tax for the foreigners to whom we export? And if our exports are greater in value and quantity than theirs, where is the boasted benefit?

When one considers the disgraceful scramble for renomination from the president to his assistant postmaster, that is going on, one is about ready to join the periodical agitation for a six-years-term, and one-term president. No sooner was the present incumbent fairly seated with reins in hand, than the pipe-laying began. And for many months the high salaried officers of the government have been giving their attention entirely to the demands of their party in view of the approaching campaign. And this is a civil service reform administration! The people are very patient under these impositions, but there comes a time when patience ceases to be a virtue.

The report upon the discriminating tolls charged American shippers who must use the Welland canal is enough to bring Andrew Jackson out of his grave. Our high tariff and other commercially restrictive measures have brought about this discrimination. To meet it President Harrison threatens retaliation. This beautiful condition of war with our northern neighbor, when natural conditions and business relations invite full and profitable interchange, is fairly illustrative of the inevitable outcome of governmental meddling with and artificial restrictions upon trade, commerce and production. Happily, we are getting so much of this under McKinleyism that the condition seems likely to work its own cure.

Here are some straws showing how the presidential wind is blowing: Harvard students held a mock national convention one night last week, and cast their ballots as follows, the democrats voting first: Cleveland, 190; Mills, 178; Pattison, 18; Hill, 39. On a second ballot the Mills vote was cast for Cleveland. The republican students' votes were: Blaine, 305; Harrison, 126, and when this result was announced a motion prevailed to make Blaine's nomination unanimous. It is noticeable the students are about equally divided in politics, the republicans having only a majority of six out of 856 votes cast; also that the democrats are for tariff reform as a first issue; and that Harrison has no more popularity in Harvard than in the republican ranks elsewhere.

The Washington special correspondent of the New York World, in the dearth of legitimate news of interest, works off a column of sensational report concerning combinations on presidential candidates for both tickets. The "shift in the presidential slate," for the democracy, is in substance that Cleveland has made Chief Justice Fuller his heir, and Vilas and Whitney, with some lesser lights, will carry out Cleveland's program by which Fuller will be the "some western man" at the Chicago convention. For the republicans the World man's story is that Secretary Blaine has become convinced that all stories concerning his health, representing him as worn out and broken down, can be traced to the White House, and in consequence he is "mad clean through" and will make the race for head of the republican ticket. All of which would be interesting if any of it were true.

A pretty story comes from Washington, some of which every Ohioan knows to be true, and all of which may be true. Senator Sherman, so the story goes, feels keenly the fact that he can not now, or at any future time, receive the presidential nomination, and he will not move a finger to help Harrison or any other man to it. Furthermore, Sherman will retire from public life at the expiration of the present congress. He has had enough of senatorial work, and in his late election insisted on having the honor of the reelection, but never intended to fill the position. Still further, he will on retiring endeavor to make Foster heir to his seat in the senate. Thus and so is a program in which Ohio is interested laid out in Washington. It seems not to take into account the ambitions of the Buckeye Napoleon, McKinley, nor the mischievousness of Ohio's own Firealarm Foraker.

THE AMERICAN MAY DAY.

The May-day demonstrations in New York and Chicago should convince any unprejudiced person that the great body of American wageworkers are not in sympathy with anarchism or any of its methods. In New York the Union Square meeting, which was under direction of the Central Labor union, was broken up by the officials who had the demonstration in charge, rather than to allow Herr Most or any of his followers to harangue the crowd. In Chicago, when the procession moved with four red flags in the line, the marching men cheered louder than the spectators when the police seized the flags and arrested their bearers. The chief marshal of the parade and his aides will also be called upon by the legitimate labor organizations of the city to defend themselves for having allowed the procession to start with the flags in line.

In New York the men on whose account the meeting was disbanded were few, though noisy. In Chicago, of the four men arrested only one could speak English, and the societies owning the flags are made up of men who understand neither our tongue nor our institutions.

It is just to the American born and Americanized wage earners who believe in labor's rights and labor's holidays, and who believe no less sincerely and ardently in the American constitution, the American republic and "old glory," that their repudiation of communism and anarchism should be recognized and commended.

A RED-HANDED ANARCHIST.

Dr. Merlino, the famous Italian anarchist, has arrived in this country and has been interviewed by the New York reporters. He tells of the favorable progress the anarchists are making in Italy, France, Germany, England, and Spain. In Spain is their most hopeful outlook, for there they act collectively. He makes boast of the bomb-throwing and dynamite character of their allies in Belgium and Austria. He says: "There is plenty of dynamite and nitro-glycerine near them and they can use it when the time comes."

And this Italian with murder and arson the dream of his life, as the pathway through fire to the millennium, says he has come to the United States because "he finds that the idea of anarchy is not sufficiently known in this country." He tells the Herald man:

I don't consider Pentecost of the "Nineteenth century," or Tucker of the "Liberty" real anarchists, as they are bookworms and cannot exert any influence. Most is more to my taste, although I don't agree in all of his methods. It is due to him that our foothold in America is strongest among his countrymen, the Germans. The Italians and French in this country know very little about anarchy, and to instruct them is the object of my visit. I am surprised at the ignorance of native Americans on the subject, but they, too, will learn.

It would seem to be the most proper thing to do to give this incendiaryforeigner a dose of the Herr Most treatment, and to apply the remedy before he gets in any of his instruction to the Americans who "seem not to understand the idea of anarchy." The aim of the dynamiters, he says "is to bring about a state of society in which every one can live as he pleases."

That this country offers asylum to the oppressed of Europe is quite enough. That it should permit these red-handed anarchists to come among our naturalized foreign population to sow seeds of rapine and sedition is too much. Dr. Merlino should be given the alternative: a residence in a quiet prison-house or a quick return to his own country.

OHIO NEWSPAPER COMMENT.

How would a ticket composed of Reed and Foraker strike you? Such a Fourth-of-July ticket ought to enthuse the boys.—Dayton Times.

The Ohio penitentiary is now under republican administration. If the convicts could vote the penitentiary would be a valuable piece of political machinery for any party to run, but there will always be a cog missing in this respect.—Wyandot Chief.

Hon. J. H. Newcomer, editor of the Delaware Herald, is a candidate for nomination for democratic presidential elector in this district. Mr. Newcomer is a democrat of sterling integrity and lives in a county where the only incentive to be a democrat is the honor of being right; and moreover he is a pleasant social gentleman.—Findlay Courier.

Now that the republican state ticket has been chosen, the next matter of political interest is the selection of a republican candidate for congress in the Ninth district, of which Wood is a part. The convention will probably be held after the national convention at Minneapolis. It is altogether likely, too, that it will be held here in Bowling Green, as several members of the committee have expressed themselves as favorable to this city, owing to the lack of hall accommodations in Toledo. The candidates spoken of at present are, first—that grand old wheel-horse, James M. Ashley; second, Hon. J. Kent Hamilton, an able lawyer and an eloquent stumper; third, C. P. Griffin, of whom more hereafter—all of them from Toledo. Toledo has sufficient votes to nominate her candidate if she can concentrate her strength, which is unlikely, unless it be on Ashley, or possibly, Hamilton. Wood county, in the event of a division in Lucas, holds the key to the situation and may yet be able to honor one of her own sons—if she can unite upon one. Whom shall it be? Never mind; let future events make the development, but if the right man is developed, let's stand by him. In unity there is strength. This suggestion is not intended to start the bee buzzing in any man's bonnet.—Bowling Green Sentinel.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Cleveland's misgivings as to the propriety of his nomination is the only point on which he is not in line with the democracy.—Greenville Progress.

A direct income tax may be unfair, but it would be less oppressive than is the indirect tax upon the incomes of workmen which the tariff assesses.—Kansas City Times.

Good streets and roads are far more important to the citizens of the town and community, especially the farmers, than any subject that could be mentioned.—South Bend Post.

George Eiffel is said to have made $10,000,000 as his share of the Eiffel tower. It is not surprising that he wishes to erect another at the Chicago world's fair.—New Orleans New Delta.

John Sherman must feel queer to see his name put forward by the silver statesmen as their candidate for presidential honors. The silver act of 1890 is responsible for this phenomenon.—Boston Herald.

One flag is enough for one country, and the stars and stripes should be good enough for every man who has sought refuge under its shadow. In Chicago we propose to keep it at the top of the flagstaff.—Chicago Mail.

"Mighty Lungs in Rivalry" was the New York Tribune's heading to the report of the proceedings of the Ohio republican state convention. Why didn't the Tribune say Brains instead of Lungs?—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The London women who make shirts are no better off now than they were when Hood wrote his "Song of the Shirt" for them. They are paid four cents for each shirt they make, and they average six in every 17 hours.—Chicago Herald.

The czar of Russia is buying guns and ammunition, while America is feeding his starving subjects. It is a downright pity that the ruler does not have to take "pot luck" with his people for a time. His money would then go for food.—Detroit Free Press.

IT NEEDS LOOKING INTO

Canadian Discrimination Against the States.

Grain Blockage Caused by Government Action.

Ogdensburg Should be the Place of Trans-Shipment—All the Marine News of the Lakes.

Chicago, May 4.—(Special Marine Service.)—Large quantities of export grain await trans-shipment at Kingston from lake steamers to St. Lawrence river barges, a great deal of it being from Chicago. The St. Lawrence canals are not yet open. A bitter feeling is growing up in Chicago against the Canadian government's treatment of American vessels and cargoes.

Shippers on 'change yesterday said that the St. Lawrence route for American grain for Europe was steadily declining in popularity, the great cause being the discriminations which the Canadians make against American interests.

The proposition that the American government retaliate by discriminating against Canadians in the use of the St. Clair Flats Canal and the Soo Canal is generally endorsed. In the end the Canadians will be the chief losers by their niggardly policy toward grain shipers.

The facilities at Kingston are notoriously inadequate to handle a large volume of business, while at Ogdensburg immense elevators for the storage of the grain in transit has been erected.

Very much more grain would go to Europe by the Montreal route if it could be shiped to Ogdensburg by lake steamers, and there placed in elevators until the ocean steamers are about ready for sea, when it would be loaded on river barges and taken down the St. Lawrence.

By the Kingston route the lake steamer must wait until the river barges are at hand to receive it, and then the latter cannot be unloaded until the ocean craft is ready at Montreal.

Shippers also prefer the Ogdensburg route because they can send the grain to Ogdensburg and if European markets are not satisfactory it can be diverted to the New England trade. In shipping via Montreal there is no such opportunity, and the grain must go forward regardless of foreign markets. With many shippers this is a great advantage. Yet the Canadian government steps in and says that grain cannot be trans-shipped at Ogdensburg without paying full Welland Canal tolls, while if handled at Kingston the tolls are merely nominal. It is believed that a little retaliation will speedily bring the Canadians to their senses.

Much Lumber to Carry.

There are many more cargoes than vessels in lumber freights and rates advanced yesterday 12 1-2c all around. Quotations are as follows: Muskegon, $1.25; Ludington, $1.37 1-2; Manistee, $1.50 to $1.62 1-2; Menominee, $1.37 1-2; Escanaba, $1.62 1-2; Naubinway, $1.75; Frankfort, $1.62 1-2; Manistique, $1.62 1-2; Cheboygan, $1.62 1-2; Oscoda, $2; Alpena, $1.75; Bay City, $2.50; Washburn, $2.50; Ashland, $2.50. The lumber laders at Ashland and Washburn are receiving 50 cents an hour and a further advance in lumber freights is anticipated. There has been a strike.

Big Grain Fleet.

A fleet of twenty boats was chartered yesterday to cary 1,279,000 bushels of grain from Chicago. The boats will get about $27,000 for the freight on this big block of grain. It was the biggest day's business since the season of navigation opened.

Evidence of the Storm.

General attention was attracted to the schooner Annie Sherwood as she was towed up the river, her appearance indicating the severity of the recent storms on Lake Superior, in which so many vessels suffered. Both her main and mizzen masts, great strong timbers that they were, were broken and twisted off, and the refuse was lying on deck, and a part of the deck load of lumber is missing. The Sherwood and Fanny Neil, both broke away from their steamer, the White & Friant, and the three craft rode out the storm at anchor.

Chicago Rates.

Chicago, May 4.—Corn market was not favorable for movement of grain today, and not a charter has been made up to noon. Shippers cleaned up boats yesterday, however, and there was no tendency toward a drop in rates to Buffalo. Big fleet of schooners were seeking grain cargoes to Georgian bay and but few of them were supplied.

Duluth.

Duluth, May 4.—Wheat rate to Buffalo may advance above 3 1-2c before the week is over. Shippers who have wheat on May delivery are trying to get it out of elevators before storage charges are imposed. Charters to-day are freely made 3 1-2c.

Buffalo.

Buffalo, May 4.—John Plankinton chartered coal to Milwaukee at 40c.

The steamer Russia, with the tug Balaize and steampumps arrived here to-day. The Russia has a good-sized hole in her port bow, and her stem is twisted badly by the collision with the Celtic. She is now unloading her coal.

Through the Straits.

Mackinaw, May 4.—Chemung, 1 a. m.; Henry Packer, 1:20; Wright, 5:30; Marion, 7:40; Seneca, 8; Mercury, 8:15; Western consorts, 9; Newburg, 11. Up—Boston, 10:40 last night; Conemaugh, Juniata, 1:30; Cambria, 7:30; Eddy M. Shaw, Joliet, 8:30. Wind southwest, fresh clear.

Cleveland Rates.

Cleveland, May 4.—Escanaba shippers were offering 75 cents to-day and Ashland might be forced to $1.25, but there are no boats to be had. Five loads for every vessel offering is condition in coal trade. Milwaukee and Duluth will probably be forced to pay an advance when strike of Cleveland coal handlers is ended. Advance in one rate will have strong tendency to strengthen grain freights out of Chicago and Duluth.

Non-Union Men Attacked.

Last evening a number of union sailors attacked the non-union crew of the schooner Charles Wall lying at the Columbus dock. John Evans and Billy Meyer, two members of the crew, were badly punished. Evans was cut and bruised, and Meyers was thrown into the river, from which he was rescued by Detective John McLaughlin. The police were notified but the assailants had made their escape before the police arrived.

Evans was taken to the police station where his wounds were dressed. The police are after the men who attacked the boats and some arrests are expected to be made to-day.

NO MORE MIXERS.

The Northwestern Will Not Contract at Mixer Rates.

Natural Gas Will be Sold by Meter Only and at 25 Cents Per Thousand, Clear of Discount.

As was recently announced in the Bee, an ordinance will be introduced during the meeting of the council next Monday evening whereby the Northwestern Natural Gas company will agree to furnish gas to Toledo at 25 cents net and 30 cents gross.

No provision will be made in the contract for mixer rates.

In conversation with a Bee this morning Superintendent Daily said: "Yes, we will submit a contract to the council next Monday evening, agreeing to supply gas at 30 cents per thousand gross and 25 cents net, allowing a discount of 5 cents per thousand.

"We have concluded not to establish a mixer schedule, but we are going to insist upon consumers adopting the meter system. We have 2,000 mixer consumers, and the change will be made as speedily as possible. Notice will be served on all mixer consumers requiring that they apply for meters within a stipulated time. The old mixer rate will be enforced until we get the meters set."

REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

St. Paul Has Ordered a Change in Her Officers.

St. Paul, Minn., May 4.—For the second time in the history of the city this city has elected republican city officials. The republican candidates for comptroller and city treasurer are elected by over 2,500.

TERRIBLE CHARGES.

More Bloody Deeds Reported from Tennessee.

Knoxville, Tenn., May 4.—Charles Miller was arrested in Blount county about a week ago suspected of murder. He proved to be a brother of the man wanted and he was turned over to two brothers named Buchanan to guard while the officers resumed their chase.

After their departure the brothers tied Miller to a tree, cut his throat and riddled his body with bullets, and then secreted the body. The body was found yesterday. It is stated that Miller was concerned in the murder of a sister of the Buchanans a few years ago.

New Richmond, O., May 4.—At 1 o'clock this morning the steamer Bonanza was lying at the wharf when the tow-b at Frisbee, with seven barges, bound for Pittsburg, ran into the stern of the wharf boat, knocking a large hole in her and breaking all the irons on the swinging stage.

SHOT BY THUGS.

STIPULATION OF THE FACTS

Agreed Upon by the Parties in the Free Cartage Case.

The Lake Shore and Michigan Central Admit to Discrimination and Tell Why—The Wabash Not In It.

Another step has been taken in the free cartage controversy between the Citizens' Board of Trade and the Lake Shore, Michigan Central and Wabash railroads, before the interstate commerce commission.

The board of trade, it will be remembered, filed complaint some time ago, against these lines, charging discrimination in the matter of free cartage.

The pleadings have all been filed except the Wabash, which is in default of answer, and now the parties have, not including the Wabash, entered into and signed a stipulation of facts in the case.

The defendants, it is agreed, have established and published schedules of their rates, fares and charges for the transportation of property to and from various points on their respective routes, which schedules state nothing as to whether or not they include terminal charges for cartage. That they do not specify as to whether the places of receipt and delivery of goods at its stations in Michigan, bring Detroit, Jackson, Lansing and Grand Rapids, are at its stations, freight depots and warehouses, or at the places of business of shipper or consignee, and that the manner of stating charges and what they include is uniform, including Toledo.

The following is the language of agreement number 8, which gives the gist of the stipulation:

"This defendant at the said cities of Detroit, Jackson, Lansing, Battle Creek and Grand Rapids, receives from consignors and delivers to consignees at their respective places of business, without additional charges beyond the tariff rates, freight transported or to be transported by it, for the transportation of which it is compelled to compete with the Grand Trunk Railway company * * and not having to so compete for the carrying of such freights to and from that point."

OUT OF EXISTENCE.

The Toledo Board of Elections is Defunct.

The New Law Provides for a Non-Partisan Organization to be Named by the Secretary of State.

The poet says:

"Many a man's dead while he's walking about."

The Toledo board of elections seems to be in a somewhat similar predicament.

Under the amended law the board has gone out of existence, and a board similarly constituted is to be appointed by the secretary of state on the recommendation of the democratic and republican county committees.

Mr. E. W. Tolerton, a member of the board of elections, was asked what changes the new law contemplated.

"I don't know, as I have not read the law. I spoke with Mr. Griffin while in Columbus, and he said he did not think the changes would effect our board. I am going to have a conference with Mr. King in a day or two, and we will know then just where we stand."

Both committees propose recommending their very best men, and no doubt the secretary of state will indorse the recommendations.

THE MICHIGAN LAW.

Republicans Will Try to Break It Down in Court.

Lansing, Mich., May 4.—Col. Duffield, of Detroit, counsel for Wm. McPherson and 13 other republican presidential electors, to-day asked the supreme court for a writ of mandamus to compel the secretary of state to have delivered to the sheriffs in the state a notice in writing, between July 1 and September 1, that at the next general election there will be chosen electors for president and vice-president of the United States for the state of Michigan.

This action was brought to test the constitutionality of the Miner election law, which was enacted by the last legislature. The court issued an order to show why writs should not issue as prayed for. This order is returnable May 12.

A point raised by Col. Duffield for the relators is one not heretofore discussed—that the fourteenth amendment confirms the right of each male citizen to vote for all the presidential electors, and that it cannot be abridged, while under the Miner law he can vote for but two electors in Michigan.

THE NICKEL PLATE.

No Changes Made in the Officers of the Road.

Cleveland, May 4.—The fifth annual meeting of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis Railway company (Nickel Plate) was held here to-day. No changes were made in the officers or directory of the road. The gross earnings for the year were $6,171,098.23, against $5,820,306,-20 the preceding year; expenses $5,146,-633.75; net earnings $1,024,455.48.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, Chauncey M. Depew and E. D. Worcester, who were here attending this and the Lake Shore meeting, left during the afternoon to attend the Michigan Central meeting tomorrow.

ELOPED AND GOT MARRIED.

Wooster, May 4.—Society circles were very greatly surprised to learn to-day that Miss Cora B. Frick, handsome and accomplished daughter of our wealthiest citizen, Jacob Frick, had eloped to Ashland with John M. Criley, a senior in Wooster University, where they were wedded by a clerical friend of the groom.

QUAINT CUSTOMS.

The Grand Duke of Hesse is about to dispatch his uncle, Prince William of Hesse, to Berlin to bear to the kaiser the news of his father's death and his own succession. The proceedings at the German court on such occasions are very quaint. In fact there is almost as much mummery about them as there is about a funeral oration in congress. The emperor and his court, all in deep mourning, receive the envoy in a room hung with black. The envoy enters with a lugubrious air, and dejectedly announces the demise of his sovereign, while the emperor deplores the loss and makes suitable eulogy of the departed one. Then an hour later the emperor and court, all in gala dress, receive the envoy again, there is much jubilation and joy, and the old adage about "the king is dead; long live the king," gets a new confirmation.—New York World.

REMBRANDT'S RUSE.

Rembrandt one day suddenly disappeared from Amsterdam. The report of his death got abroad, and great numbers went to condole with the poor widow, and offered large sums of money for a painting, drawing, or a mere sketch by the hand of the famous artist. The whole of his stock was cleared out at fabulous prices. A few months later Rembrandt turned up again safe and sound, and his clever stratagem created no little merriment among the jolly burghers of the northern Venice.

HAVE POSTPONED THE DATE

A Disappointment to Irishmen in America.

The Attempt to Smoke Gladstone Out on His Line of Action Seems to Have Failed.

London, May 4.—In the house of commons to-day Mr. Alexander Blaine, Parnellite member for South Armagh, withdrew his motion to the effect that the time had come to establish a parliament in Dublin for the control of Irish affairs.

The motion was to have come up for a hearing next Friday when a very lively debate was expected.

It was looked upon especially as a means of drawing out Mr. Gladstone and securing the long wished for declaration from him of his home rule program if he has any.

Evidently a means has been found to put off the inopportune discussion by inducing Mr. Blaine to withdraw his motion.

THE LAKE SHORE.

The Old Officers Re-Elected at the Annual Meeting.

Cleveland, O., May 4.—The annual meeting of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railway company was held here this forenoon, and all the old officers and directors were re-elected. The total earnings for the fiscal year just ended were $21,431,386.60, the largest in the road's history. The operating expenses and taxes were $14,632,675.38, leaving net earnings of $6,798,711.30.

It is the custom in China to burn old, worm-eaten, wooden idols and cast the ashes in the river in order to prevent the possibility of the idol being profaned by being trodden under foot. After her death, and in 1878, he took for his third wife a young woman of 18 years, who has already born him 20 children—ten pairs of twins—of whom eleven are living.

The Arabs, who used to catch thousands of slaves in the Bahr el Ghazel country, where Dr. Junker worked so long, extended their ravages hundreds of miles westward where they met the forces of the Congo Free State, that inflicted overwhelming defeat upon them. The Arabs were wasting the whole country with fir and sword, and the natives were powerless to resist them.

Ferdinand De Soto was a little later in his discoveries than Christopher Columbus; but, by a happy accident, his greatest success will be commemorated earlier than that of his predecessor. From the point at which he discovered the Mississippi river a bridge across the stream is nearly completed, and arrangements are now in progress for a grand ceremonial opening on May 12. This great work is the first attempt to span the Mississippi south of the Ohio. As a factor in the development of the inter-state commerce, its importance can hardly be over-estimated.

Mr. Jephson, who was one of Stanley's most trusted lieutenants, on the Emin expedition, and lived for many months with Emin in his province, expresses great faith in the possibility of the commercial development of Central Africa. In his recent lectures he says that tobacco grows almost everywhere, and its quality would insure for it a ready sale. The great product, however, will be cotton. He says it is cultivated in great quantities by Emin Pasha. In Uganda and the countries beyond, sufficient cotton of a good quality could be grown to render England independent of supplies from other sources. He has great faith in the proposed railroad to Victoria Nyanza, and says that the cost of transporting a bale of cloth from the coast to the lake is now five times its value, and the cost of transport for other goods is proportionally high.

The late Mrs. Philip Haxall was, as Miss Mary Triplett, one of a galaxy of lovely girls who made Richmond noted for the beauty of its women. When she was a young school girl, hardly in her teens, Gen. Robert E. Lee was very fond of her, and she kept as a priceless treasure a letter he sent her at the time she was crowned queen of the May at a school-girls' festival. In this letter Gen. Lee wrote: "You know you have long been enthroned in my heart." When the confederate commander returned from the war after the peace of Appomattox, Miss Triplett was present at the house to meet him, and begged of him a button from his coat. Ever afterward she wore the button as a brooch. So much did the Virginia soldiery think of her that when the statue of General Lee was unveiled the entire body of Lee's troops saluted her as she stood at the door of her home.

THE DEMON'S STORY.

The echo of 12 solemn strokes from the city clock had hardly died away in the hush of midnight when a wild, unearthly shriek rang through the corridor of the jail.

I sprang from the narrow cot on which I lay in the dark, iron-bound dungeon and listened.

But there was no need to listen—the wild, blood-curdling yells from the floor beneath increased, and I pressed close to the grated door of my cell and peered through the bars.

The darkness outside was intense, and the cries of the madman pierced through it and filled every hallway of the prison.

Suddenly above the wild cries I heard the footsteps of a man running rapidly up the stairway which ended just in front of the cell in which I was confined.

A moment later a man, whom by the light of the dim candle which he carried I easily recognized as James Hogarth, the jailer, stood panting and terrified in front of my cell.

"What's the matter, in heaven's name?" I asked.

He gave a terrible start and, as if seized with a new thought, he sprang to the door of the cell. With the aid of a bunch of keys which he always carried, he was inside my cell and had the door locked behind him in a twinkling.

"Don't tell him," he cried, in a hoarse voice. "Don't tell the Demon! He's got the keys to his cell and is getting out now. My God! What shall I do; he'll kill all of us."

He threw the dimly burning candle to the floor, and in a moment had hidden himself under my cot.

I well knew what the liberation of the Demon meant. He had been in the prison for nearly a score of years and was bloodthirsty.

His wild cries increased, and now I heard his heavy footsteps running along the lower hall, now coming up the stairway; a half minute and he stood in front of my cell just where Hogarth had stood a moment before.

He was a terrible-looking being. Of Samson-like build, his long, shaggy hair and beard gave him a most ferocious appearance.

The light of the tallow candle attracted him, and as he sprang toward the cell door the bright new blade of a deadly knife glistened for an instant in the candle light.

With a wild cry he grasped the heavy iron bars.

"He's in here," he cried madly, "and I'll have his blood."

With his vice-like hands he grasped the iron bars firmly, the big muscles on his arms expanded, and he drew himself up and, with a powerful effort, tried to shake the grated door from its fastenings.

The poor frightened wretch under the cot gave a terrified scream, and the sound of his voice seemed to madden the Demon. He grasped the bars again—another effort—the iron door swung upon its hinges like a plaything before the powerful strength of the Demon.

With a bound he sprang inside the cell, and clutched me by the throat. He relaxed his hold almost instantly.

"Not you; not you," he cried. "I want Hogarth."

He looked about the narrow cell with greedy eyes. His eyes suddenly fell on the cot. In an instant he had torn it from its place and the frightened Hogarth lay trembling and beseeching before him.

The knees of the Demon fell heavily upon his chest, the bright blade reflected the dim light as it rapidly ascended and descended, and I shut out the horrible sight. Only the groans of the dying man disturbed the quiet. Even that was soon hushed.

When I opened my eyes a strange sight was revealed in the candle's wierd light.

Hogarth lay in his place, his wide-open eyes staring vacantly at the white wall, and a dark trail of blood was moving from under his head to the opposite side of the room. Sitting on the wrecked remains of the old cot was the Demon, calmly contemplating the dead man before him, and holding in one hand the murderous blade still dripping with blood.

Suddenly he turned toward me, and noticing my interested gaze, began talking eagerly.

"I swore to kill him nearly twenty years ago," said he, "and now I've done it."

After much preliminary questioning on my part, he told me the whole story.

"When I was a young man," said the Demon, "my prospects were as fair as any one's. I married one of the prettiest, sweetest women God ever created, and we lived happily for a few months. About six months after our marriage an aged aunt died and by her will we fell heir to an immense fortune. There was the usual scramble, and the upshot of it was that I and my young bride were thrown into this horrible jail, charged with forging my aunt's will. Hogarth was the keeper of this jail at that time, and when he first saw Annie, my wife, he loved her. He persecuted her with his attention, and I was locked up, unable to resent his impertinence—insolence. I resolved to do it when I got out, and told him so; but he laughed, and said:

"'You're not out yet, my pretty bird; and you won't get out soon.'

"And he was right. The charge of forging the will was made without any grounds, and we were acquitted. But the matter did not end there.

"Before night I was arrested again on the charge of murder. The principal witness in the case against me was murdered near my home, and I was arrested and brought back to this horrible place, away from my wife and with everything against me. It was maddening, and it's no wonder they named me the 'Demon.'"

He paused, glanced at the dead man, and went on:

"There's no use dwelling on it. I was sentenced to life imprisonment in this place, and I shall never forget the horror and the dread I experienced when I first came here. I became so terrible that my cage had to be made more secure than the others. That was nearly twenty years ago. Think of the horror of an innocent man in my position. But it was made a thousand times worse. Two years after my incarceration the villain, Hogarth, had my wife obtain a divorce from me, and he married her.

"Great God! It was more than I could endure. Helpless to defend myself against the wretch who had ruined my life and who persecuted me daily, I swore to kill him, and I prayed to God to let me live to do it. Oh, how my blood boiled in my veins and how I longed to plunge this knife into his murderous heart!

"To-night he came to my cell and stopped to taunt me. He was near to the door and carelessly swung a bunch of keys in his hand as he talked. I grabbed them before he could jerk his hand away and unlocked the cell, followed and killed him like a dog, as I should have done. I may never see Annie, but I've killed the villain who wrecked my life forever."

That's his story, told as he told it to me in my narrow cell. Two hours later a party of officers came for the Demon. He would not go, resisted strongly, and they shot him to death.

The next day there were two funerals in the same cemetery—they were of two husbands of one woman.

Over the bier of the poor, dead convict a pretty, sad-faced woman stood and wept long after the last shovelful of earth had been placed upon the mound.

And when the few had gone away, she placed a bunch of pretty flowers over where she thought his heart might be, and kneeling there she wept until her heart was sore.—Robert L. Adamson in Albany Times-Union.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Governor Eagle of Arkansas, is by occupation a farmer and by inclination a preacher. Baptist congregations sometimes invite him to fill the pulpit, and he is said to be an exhorter of no mean power.

The last male descendant of Pulaski, the Pole who aided the patriots of '76, is said to be earning a scanty living as a peddler in Savannah, Ga.

Ex-Governor Newton Booth, of California, is slowly dying at his home in Sacramento of the same disease which ended the life of Gen. Grant.

Gen. William H. Bulkeley, exlieutenant governor of Connecticut, voted a written ballot at the recent city election in Hartford, but it was thrown out as irregular.

Isaac S. Dement the president of the Chicago Stenographers' association has a record of 360 words a minute, and is said to be the fastest shorthand writer of the day.

Ann French, of Belfast, Me., a widow, aged 90, and worth about $100,000, has created a sensation by marrying Henry C. Peavey of Amherst, aged 36, an itinerate peddler.

Hadje Hanoum, daughter of Suhhi Pasha, minister of state in Turkey, has published some excellent poetry. She is considered by native critics to be one of their sweetest songstresses.

Mrs. Newman, wife of Bishop Newman of Omaha, has been elected fellow of the American Geographical Society. She has earned this association by her observations as an extensive traveler.

Lo Sessions, once a powerful New York state senator, but now a very much disappointed politician, is frequently seen flitting through the corridors of the house of representatives at Washington. He was one of the seceders from the Grant camp to Garfield at the convention of 1880, and this act of secession caused Conklin to say, as he hesitated about casting his vote: "I was only giving Lo Sessions an opportunity to consummate the treason that he had in contemplation when he pledged himself at Albany to vote for Gen. Grant on every ballot." Sessions had his revenge, for he was instrumental in preventing the return of Conkling to the senatorial seat he had resigned.

BEST SPRING REMEDY IN THE WORLD.

One True Medicine for Lost Nervous Strength.

CURES EFFECTED BY PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

What Scientific Research Accomplished.

Proved by Success Where All Else Has Failed.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system, and that is the Paine's celery compound so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

Washington correspondents have recently given it a great deal of attention since the most wonderful cure effected in the case of Commodore Howell.

The medical journals of the country have given more space in the last few years to the many remarkable cases where the use of Paine's celery compound has made people well than to any other one subject.

Silver Lead Ores the Next Object to Attack.

The Ways and Means Committee Has Completed Its Work and Will Make a Report.

Washington, May 4.—Representative Whiting, of Michigan, has prepared and will submit to the house the report of the majority of the ways and means committee, recommending the passage of the bill to place on the free list silver lead ores when the silver exceeds the lead in value.

After calling attention to the rulings of the treasury department that the metal of predominating value determined the dutiable character of ores, the report says the McKinley law changed this by imposing a duty of 1 1-2 cents a pound on lead in silver ores "with results of increased and increasing injury to American smelters and all interests connected therewith."

The use of silver lead ores for smelting the dry silver ores mined in the United States is an imperative necessity and they are not only required as the raw material of smelting, but are an essential tool of industry. The American smelter must secure this tool, and as the domestic supply does not meet the demand, heavy importations of Mexican ores have been made.

Now, however, new conditions confront the smelting interests of this country and threaten, unless the relief proposed is granted, the quick transfer across the Mexican border of a large proportion of the smelting industry, to the great injury of American labor and to the railroads and other kindred pursuits.

The results of the McKinley act upon this industry demonstrate that it has led to direct and increasing injury to American labor, capital and markets without corresponding benefit to any home industry. The sole benefits have been to foreign interests and the sole injury to our own people; and unless quickly remedied, the injurious results, will be past all cure.

In conclusion, the report says that while the bill will not cure the plain evils which the present law has created, if promptly adopted it will modify its injurious effect upon our home industries.

The foreign affairs committee has suggested that this concession would probably be of mutual advantage in securing reciprocity with Mexico. The imposition of a duty upon silver lead ores was regarded by Mexico as an unfriendly act and the Mexican government at once retaliated by increasing her duties upon our agricultural products, for, while our sister republic has really been the only one benefited by the duty, she realizes that in passing the law it was our purpose to injure her and acts accordingly.

A young lady of Jefferson, West Virginia, declares that she was all run down before taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla; but that now she is gaining strength every day. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is certainly a wonderfully effective tonic for the feeble and delicate.

THE G. A. R. COLOR LINE

The Black Man Has Been Sustained.

Commander-in-Chief Palmer Suspends the Disobedient White Officers in Louisiana.

New Orleans, May 4.—Ever since Past Department Commander Jacob Gray of the G. A. R. some two years ago chartered a number of negro posts there has been a continual wrangle, the white posts declining to accord any recognition to the negro posts. A decision was had from the commander-in-chief recognizing these negro posts, but Deputy Commander Frederick Speed refused to inspect them or recognize them in any way. He was warned that serious consequences might ensue, but his comrades indorsed his course, and he decided to stick to it.

A lengthy petition was prepared and forwarded to the national commander, Gen. John Palmer of New York. The colored posts also got up a petition, which, it appears, had more effect. It led to the suspension of the department commander and senior vice commander for disobedience of orders.

Col. James Lewis, who led the fight for the negro posts, stated this morning that thy were certain to win, and that the white posts would not dissolve as had been alleged, as sufficient members would remain to preserve their organization. The command of the department now devolves upon Junior Vice-Commander Miller, who is said to be as firmly opposed to the negro as the two deposed officers.

HUBBY VS. BUNNY.

An amusing bride made a short connection on the Central road last week. She was not recognized by any one but the watchful tourist. She had with her a beautiful setter, with whom she shared her seat while her husband read a paper on the other side of the aisle.

The bride put her arm about the dog's neck, and talked to him affectionately, pointing out the objects of interest for his benefit. To this attention he responded by licking her face and tearing her skirt. Perhaps the groom was of less progressive mind than his wife or forgot the part expected of him. He sometimes looked across the aisle as if he would like similar attention.

"My eye hurts me," he remarked, pensively, while trying to extract a cinder.

"Does it? Don't rub it. I believe you're getting a sty." To the dog: "Come up here, deary. Keep your nose out of the aisle, Bunny. Oh, I haven't washed your face to-day."

This she proceeded to do, while her husband mopped his eyes in loneliness.—New York Recorder.

CROOKS ARE HER GAME.

Mrs. Ames Proves Herself an Adept in Capturing Transgressors.

Mrs. A. T. Ames, wife of the sheriff of Boone county, Ill., is one of the nerviest women in the country. She is not only nervy, but she is an adroit and clever detective. A little episode which recently occurred has brought out her remarkable skill in this direction. Some weeks ago a prisoner who was confined in the county jail for some petty offense, having served his sentence, was allowed some liberties about the place until he could find employment and leave the town. While enjoying his liberty he took advantage of the situation and entered Mrs. Ames' rooms and relieved her of a gold watch and other valuable jewelry and then left for parts unknown. Mrs. Ames was very much put out on account of the ingratitude of the fellow, and she determined to capture him and bring him to punishment if possible. So she started in pursuit, tracing the man to Rockford, Ill., where she found someone had donated him a pair of shoes. By making an circuit of the shoe stores she found the party who had made the donation. This shoe dealer also knew where a friend of the criminal lived. So Mrs. Ames called at the house of this friend and succeeded in getting information that the fellow she was in search of had gone to Milwaukee, and that he had relatives or friends there, so she followed by first train to Milwaukee and laid the case before the chief of police. She found a portion of the stolen property in a pawnshop. The fellow, Ben Hilt, by name, was known to the police at Milwaukee, and it was soon ascertained who his friends were, but Hilt had in some way gotten wind that he was wanted and secreted himself, but the police lay in waiting, and, although two months have elapsed since he was left under the watchful care of the Milwaukee police, a few days ago he was arrested in that city and Mrs. Ames was notified. She immediately took the train for Milwaukee and identified her prisoner. She thereupon negotiated for his release and return to Belvidere. Hilt consented to come without a requisition from the governor, and so was turned over to Mrs. Ames. She had had enough experience with Hilt to know that he was treacherous, and she did not propose to be fooled again, so she quickly slipped the iron bracelets on him to make sure that she would be able to take care of him. Thus the novel spectacle was presented of a lady officer conducting a hand-cuffed prisoner through the streets and by train for a distance of 150 miles.

Mrs. Ames landed the prisoner in the county jail, where he will be held to answer to the charge of burglary. While Mrs. Ames shows remarkable adaptability for this kind of work, she does not do it from choice, but rather because her husband, Sheriff Ames, is prostrated with sickness and has been able to do but little official business for the last few months. She is a most estimable lady, and moves in the best circles of society. But she has remarkable business ability, and during several terms her husband has held the office of sheriff she has developed a remarkable talent in the line of detective work. On many occasions her testimony before the grand jury or court, relating to matters she had skillfully drawn from prisoners, has given material aid to the state in the prosecution of such criminals.

THE MARKETS ARE FIRM

Bad Weather Is Having Its Effect.

Foreign Quotations are but Little Changed.

Trading in the Toledo Pit Very Limited – Prices and Values Gathered from all Over the World.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 323,230 bus, and at five other western points 116,345 bus. On the same Wednesday in 1891 the receipts were 129,175 bus. The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were wheat 163,290 bus., and flour to an aggregate of 460,000 bus., including Philadelphia flour for three days. Export of corn 337,735 bus., and of oats 30,545 bus. English markets as reported herein are firm for wheat and dearer for corn.

Adverse Weather Conditions.

The rains of this week have extended over the western winter wheat fields, and roads that were beginning to improve are in a bad condition again. Fields and farms that had commenced to reform are now demoralized and utterly unfit for the plow.

Corn has not been planted to any great extent, but if planted by May 15 in the great corn states, will make a crop.

Oats—That portion of the crop now in the ground is wrestling with adverse weather, and is very unpromising; and many fields intended for oats will be devoted to corn or other crops. The prospect is not a rosy one.

Exportation of Wheat and Flour.

According to the "Chicago Bulletin" and the Liverpool "Corn Trade News," the exportation of wheat, and flour expressed in wheat for 39 weeks from August 1, exceeds the requirements by 22,000,000 bus. Here is the true secret of the break in prices. Here is the meat in the cocoanut for the alliances. Everybody has been misled concerning aggregate production in 1891.

Bradstreets' report of the visible supply makes wheat east of the Rockies decreased 2,343,000 bu. Pacific coast increased 450,000 bu. Net increase of wheat, 1,893,000 bu. Corn decreased 932,000 bu. Oats increased 309,000 bu.

The Value of Wheat.

Just now the western prices of winter wheat are based on a home demand. Millers and eastern mixers of export have whipped out western stocks, which are not being replenished by farmers' sales. Our price here of about 90c for No. 2 soft is above an export value, but New York takes it, mixes it down and exports it. But Chicago spring wheat is exportable at 85c bu., if Liverpool will buy it at their quotations, but the quotation is bogus, else Liverpool would order it at 80c at Chicago.

New York reports 38 loads of wheat sold at all Atlantic ports for export; also that engagements are made to June 1 for 166 loads—we suppose of wheat and corn—say 1,400,000 bu.

Continued firmness is the leading feature of the wheat markets on this side of the water. The adverse weather produces a fear lest the spring wheat acreage in the northwest may be decreased, and this fear creates firmness in the markets. No one—not even the great plunger—wants to sell it, and as no one wants to buy much of it, as a week of good weather would change the outlook. Meantime the market is feeling its way along, and gains a little daily. To-day prices gained 1-2c and lost 1-4c of it.

Corn continues strong on both sides of the water and has advanced.

Foreign markets close without notable change in wheat. Corn quoted as closing higher.

In New York May wheat closed 1-8c, and July 1-4c higher. May corn 3-8c up. July steady. May oats 3-8c up.

In Chicago, May wheat closed 3-8c, and July 1-4c up. May corn 1-2c and July 1-8c up. May oats 1-8c up.

In Toledo the trading in wheat to-day has been limited. Prices have been very firm, and for July the market closes a shade higher, but dealers lack the courage to load up and business is light. May sold at 89 5-8c and closed as yesterday at 89 3-4c. July sold at 85 1-8@85 1-2c, and closed at 85 3-8c, a gain of 3-8c. August sold at 83 7-8@84c, and closed with sellers at that.

Cash wheat was more active than yesterday, with sales of 30,000 bu. at May price. No. 2 soft at 89 5-8@89 3-4c; L. S. at 90c; No. 3 soft at 87 1-2@88c; smutty at 80c, L. S.

Corn—No. 2 at 41 1-4@41 1-2c; May at 41 1-2c.

Nothing reported in oats, rye and clover seed.

Close in New York.

New York, May 4.—Flour firm with good demand; city mill extra, 475@485 for West Indies; Minnesota extra, $2 65 @5 00; fine, $1 70@2 70; superfine, $2 35 @3 00.

Wheat opened strong and continued strong throughout. At noon prices were up 1-2c; No. 2 red winter, 97 3-4c cash; 90 3-8c May; 90 1-2c June; 90 3-4c July; 90 3-8c August.

Corn opened firm and advanced steadily throughout the morning. At noon prices were up 5-8c; No. 2 mixed, 53c cash; 50 3-8c May; 47 3-8c June; 47 1-2c July.

Oats quiet; No. 2 mixed, 34c cash; 34c May; 34 1-4 July.

Rye dull at 80@82c.

Barley slow and neglected.

BEN RAITZ SLATED

For Chief of Police, According to the Moguls,

With Charley Durian for Secretary of the Board—Result of a "Conference" Held This Morning.

It is all cut and dried that the police department is to be ripped up, and the ripping process will begin at the meeting of the police commissioners to-night.

Party pressure has been brought to bear upon Commissioner Waring, and it is said he will fall in line at the dictation of the bosses.

The leading republican lights of the city met, behind bolted doors, at the county commissioners' office at 11:30.

Among those present were County Auditor Jones, Sheriff Stuart, County Clerk Bronson, Probate Judge Millard, W. I. Squire, County Treasurer Hunter, Judge Sala, Commissioner Waring, County Commissioners Jacob Englehardt and W. W. Cook, and Mayor Emmick.

The object of this august assembly was to select timber for chief of police and secretary of the police board.

Among the many candidates for the latter position, A. L. Johnson and Charley Durian were in the lead.

For chief of police, Mayor Emmick favors Capt. Roulet, Mr. Waring, who holds the appointment in his palm, has always held out for Edward O'Dwyer, but in case of a change he had settled upon Capt. W. V. McMaken as a candidate. As Mr. Waring's wishes were law in the matter the party magnates favored Capt. McMaken's appointment, and the position was formally tendered that gentleman.

Capt. McMaken refused to accept the captaincy, and another slate has been agreed on, which places Ben Raitz, at present meat and milk inspector, as chief, and Charles Durian, ex-city clerk, as secretary of the board.

This may or may not go through at the meeting to-night, but it's the deal as arranged when the Bee went to press.

A CARD.

Having re-leased our present quarters for a term of years, we will, at a great expense, remodel the building from top to bottom. An entire new front will be put in, the room will be enlarged and refinished, our shop moved upstairs, and many important and necessary changes made. In consequence we must get our goods out of the way. Many pieces would be ruined by the dust and dirt. Everything will be sacrificed; many valuable pieces at less than cost. Our line is full and complete and must attract you. Terms of sale strictly cash. No goods engraved.

WRAPPED IN A POISONOUS VEIL!

In the mists that we see rising from the shores of sluggish streams, from low lands soaked by freshets or from marshy muddy flats on the outskirts of populous cities, lurk disease and death. Inmeshed in this poisonous veil of mist are isolated business structures, manufacturing villages and humble tenements. For those who either from motives of business interest or dire necessity are daily constrained to breathe this envenomed atmosphere, there is no immunity save in an efficient medicinal safeguard. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters fully fills the need, protecting whole communities from the insidious attacks of malaria, a disease which in its more malignant forms is scarcely less to be dreaded in the individual than typhus. Every type of it is thoroughly eradicated by the Bitters. This peerless medicine also remedies dyspepsia, constipation, liver and kidney trouble, rheumatism and nervousness. 'Tis a restorative, too, of appetite, sleep and flesh.
